2025 DAY AT THE CAPITOL

TIPS ON MAKING YOUR LEGISLATIVE VISIT SUCCESSFUL

Primary Goal: Build a meaningful relationship

- Be Prepared
Refer to information provided by TLTA to know which issue(s) and bill(s) to discuss. Understand how they affect the industry and reasons for your position.
- Introduce Yourself
Be sure to introduce yourself and your association, TLTA. Give the legislator or aide your business card and tell them what town you are from.
- Discuss Key Points
Be concise, brief and go over crucial points. Anticipate that there will be a short amount of time for the meeting.
- Provide Industry Information and Materials
Hand out literature that summarizes the main issues of the industry. Review the information in the attendee packet and know what you are providing to legislators.
- Be Specific and Personal
Portray how the legislation affects the industry or your company, giving specific examples. This allows the legislator to relate to your concern and issues and will have more impact. Keep statistics and figures to a minimum and use them to accentuate your point rather than make the case.
- Be Honest
Build trust and maintain your credibility by being straightforward. Don't stretch the truth or distort facts and figures.
- Be Patient
Be respectful of the legislator's position and time.
- Educate
Communicate your views and inform rather than argue your point. Do not take it personally if the legislator disagrees with you on a certain issue.
- Stay Focused
Remember that you are representing TLTA. Issues that are not part of the program today should be addressed at a separate meeting with your legislator.
- Put on a United Front
It's important for the title industry to have a cohesive image. Don't denigrate other title insurance companies or other segments within the industry.
- Make Allies
Be friendly with the staff who may be of valuable assistance to you and a good source for inside information.
- Ask for Support
Request support from the legislator.
- Offer to be a Resource
Give the legislator your contact information. They may just turn to you when preparing a legislative bill or proposal.
- Thank the Legislator
Remember to thank the legislator for his/her time and support at the end of the visit.
- Send a Thank You Letter
After your visit, follow up by thanking the legislator through a personal letter for his/her time and support. If necessary, reemphasize the need for support or request support again.

2025 DAY AT THE CAPITOL

Current Issues Talking Points

Below are five subjects that could come up, or you may want to bring up, when you meet with legislators and their staff. Be prepared for those discussions by familiarizing yourself with our industry's message in the talking points below.

Commissioner of Insurance Made a Disastrous Decision Last Week

- We are experiencing the worst housing market in at least 40 years.
- Title agents are small businesses located in communities all across Texas. They are struggling to keep their doors open.
- Commissioner Brown made a devastating decision last week, issuing an order to lower title rates by 10%.
- Your district will be impacted. Jobs will be eliminated in large numbers, and we fear that potentially half of title agents will operate at a loss or face insolvency due to a rate decrease of this magnitude.
- This decision by the Commissioner disregarded current market conditions and the industry's 2023 statistical data in TDI's possession. The latest publicly available data is through 2022.
- TDI's failure to timely request and process industry data has contributed to this disastrous decision.
- We need a legislative solution to ensure TDI can fulfill its statutory duties. TDI must be required to collect and compile the statistical rate-making data, which includes each agent's financial information, and make it publicly available in a timely manner for proper rate setting.

Current Market

Our industry is inherently cyclical. Despite the strong market in 2020 and 2021, we are now experiencing a severe downturn, which presents extreme challenges for small businesses. We must adapt our resources from addressing an unprecedented spike in demand to navigating a slower, more uncertain market.

The most concerning aspect of the current housing market is the lock-in effect. More than half of all outstanding mortgages have an interest rate below 4%, and roughly three-quarters have a rate of 5% or lower. Additionally, 90% of mortgages are below 6%. Even if the Federal Reserve lowers rates, experts do not anticipate mortgage rates returning to the 5–6% range in the near future. In fact, mortgage rates have continued to rise even after previous Fed rate cuts.

At this point, it remains unclear where new housing supply will come from. Experts do not anticipate any significant market recovery until at least 2027.

Deed Theft

This is a growing concern for both the title industry and law enforcement. TLTA is actively working with the Dallas District Attorney's Office, AARP, and the County & District Clerks Association on legislation to combat deed fraud through various approaches, including:

- A self-help bill that would allow homeowners to remove fraudulent deeds from their chain of title.
- Reforming the notary statute to provide stronger protections against notary-assisted fraud.
- A criminal statute more narrowly tailored to address deed forgery and seller identity theft, making it easier to prosecute.

It's important to note that we are witnessing two types of fraud. The first is forged deed fraud, which has made headlines. However, an even greater and growing threat to the public is seller impersonation fraud. In these cases, fraudsters do not forge a deed; instead, they use falsified identification to convince all necessary parties that they are the rightful property owner.

Foreign Property Ownership

This is an extremely politically sensitive issue

Our interests in these bills focuses on the specific details and practical implementation. We want to help the legislature craft effective policy while ensuring the protection of innocent Texans.

These innocent Texans include lienholders, future property owners, and the many real estate entities and professionals who drive the Texas real estate economy, such as bankers, realtors, multifamily developers, and home builders.

Privacy & Access to Court and Property Records

Access to court and property records is essential to our work, but well-meaning, proposed legislation frequently threatens to restrict it. While we strongly support protecting personal privacy, maintaining public access to certain property records is critical for the real estate economy to function properly. We appreciate your willingness to consider TLTA's concerns on this important issue.

2025 DAY AT THE CAPITOL

A committee is a group of legislators appointed to consider specific issues. A conference committee is made of lawmakers from both chambers to forge a compromise over disputed legislation. This chart shows how a bill originating in the House of Representatives becomes a law. The same general procedure is followed with Senate bills, except the Senate acts prior to the House.
