Truly Title Announces Graham Hanks as New President, Ushering in Exciting Growth and Innovation

Dallas, TX – February 1st, 2025 – Truly Title, a leader in modern real estate, technology and title solutions, proudly announces the promotion of Graham Hanks as the company’s new President. With a distinguished career in the title and real estate industry, Hanks brings extensive leadership experience and a vision for continued innovation and expansion.

Graham Hanks has been an integral part of Truly Title, serving as Texas State President and driving transformative initiatives and growth, that have enhanced the company's service offerings and operational excellence. As President, Hanks will lead the company in its mission to redefine the title industry with cutting-edge technology, customer-centric solutions, and an unwavering commitment to excellence.

“Graham’s leadership and strategic expertise have been instrumental in shaping Truly Title into the forward-thinking company it is today,” said Michael Tafoya, CEO of Truly Title. “His ability to drive innovation while maintaining our core values of trust and service make him the ideal leader to propel us into the future.”

Under Hank’s leadership, Truly Title plans to expand its market presence, enhance technology-driven efficiencies, and further refine the customer experience for homebuyers, lenders, and real estate professionals.

“I am honored to step into this role and continue building on the strong foundation that Truly Title has established,” said Graham Hanks. “Our team is dedicated to pushing the boundaries of what’s possible in the title industry, and I’m excited about the opportunities ahead to serve our clients and partners in new and dynamic ways.”

Truly Title remains committed to revolutionizing the title industry with innovative solutions and superior service. The company looks forward to the new era of growth and excellence under Hank’s leadership.
