Doma (fka North American Title Insurance Company) appoints Lauren McCaskill as Agency Manager for West Texas and New Mexico

MIAMI – May 8, 2023 – Doma Title Insurance, Inc. (fka North American Title Insurance Company, or NATIC) named Lauren McCaskill as Agency Manager for the company’s West Texas and New Mexico regions. In this position, she manages agency activities for the company, securing and servicing agents throughout the region and assisting them with their business growth plans.

After launching her career as an escrow assistant for a national title company in 2012, McCaskill served in several capacities in the title insurance industry over the past decade. For two years, she worked in business development for a title company, where she created and implemented marketing concepts for a specialized property division, as well as managed the division’s social media content. Subsequently, she gravitated back to the escrow side of the business, most recently serving as escrow officer for a Texas-based title company.

“Lauren has more than a decade of experience in title insurance, working in all facets of the industry,” said Ashleigh Spruell, Assistant Vice President, Regional Agency Manager for Doma’s Central Region. “Not only does she know firsthand what it takes to get a deal in the door and closed, she has an innate ability to work in partnership with her agents, identifying their specific needs to ensure they have access to the tools and resources Doma offers to achieve success in today’s competitive market.”

McCaskill attended Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, Texas, where she focused on hospitality and tourism administration. Active in her community, she volunteers with Habitat for Humanity and Meals on Wheels, and is a member of both the Greater Fort Worth Association of Realtors and the Heartland Association of Realtors. She is also a member of the American Land Title Association, the Texas Land Title Association and the New Mexico Land Title Association.

“Living in a small town, I understand the challenges that are unique to independently owned title companies in more remote areas,” said McCaskill. “I also see the tremendous benefits Doma has to offer. In this technological age, agents everywhere can have equal and immediate access to the resources offered by our Doma education team, underwriting professionals and agency support group. Having worked in the trenches for more than a decade, I know what an agent needs from their underwriter and can help them effectively plug into these resources to improve their services, expand their marketing efforts and grow their businesses.”

McCaskill works from a field office in Texas and can be reached by email at lauren.mccaskill@doma.com, or by telephone at (325) 642-7226.
